Business Mindset: Vision (Business Mentor) (Volume 2) Gabrielle Adriana Alexandra Monaen

Vision is Business Mindset's 2nd chapter.

In this economic environment, you must pursue your dreams. Hesitate, and you get left behind. The reality in which you live requires you to build your dreams. And having the strength and structure to be authentic are key to building.

"A film is created from a concept... an idea. The idea comes when walking, in the shower, over dinner, when asleep...

It comes and is fragile: make note of it, or forget about it.

Just like any dream: act on it, and you make it reality. Act on it, and you put it in a form that can be shared with the world. Act on it, and you are more into the world.

Choose to put ideas in palpable and well-defined forms. Choose to expand personality through your creations. Choose to be open and to play. Then dreams come true.

The ideas you have are you. They are your tools, clues, solutions, and snippets of strategies. Put them together to contour your vision. Forgetting creates gaps in the vision.

Inspiration is feeble, but your vision is you. Make notes of the things you like – they are parts of who you are."

Document your life.

The book is dedicated to my children.

I think that when you are born, you are given a gift: time. You are alive for a certain period of time. And you feel enjoyment and satisfaction from living happily. It is wise to learn to live happily early. Being happy is both a skill and a lifestyle.

I think that one of my key parental responsibilities is to teach happiness to my children. And beyond the example I set with my own decisions and lifestyle, in the way I pursue and celebrate happiness, I work to create an environment in which my children are taught early to pursue their interests and happiness.

The environment I build encourages them to contour their personalities through expressing their creative ideas.

I want them to develop their full senses. To communicate fluently through song-writing, clothes-making, software development, painting, through speaking the languages that stimulate their mental chords to the sensitivity that inspires them to write the prose they want their own children to read.

A place we visit as a family may make have a particular impression on them. A name may inspire them. A certain room layout may enable them to create more...

I want them to retain the preferences they develop on the go, to make notes of them, all of them. And to act on them.

Photograph the place, make it the scene of action in your novel, do a photo-shoot there. Change your name to what resonates with the traits that feel important to you. Redesign your space as you please. Wear the clothes you design, find your own style. Publish your drawings, present your paintings at the local gallery or where you wish. Pursue the path that brings happiness to you, and contour your personality with authenticity.

Act on your preferences from an early age. Make notes of your desires and expectations, and contour a vision of life. And pursue it.

Happiness comes when you can be you, when you can create the beautiful things that you imagine. The friends you make are people you meet as you go. So walk in places that are meaningful to you, to meet people with similar values. There are higher chances to find people who understand you this way, and to bond lasting friendships.

And business comes from creating a portfolio, a dedicated culture around you, and products you believe in.
