Most people don't know what they want in life. They drift through life from day to day with no dreams, no vision, and no purpose. They accept whatever the world decides to give them. They end up spending most of their adult lives responding to an unfulfilling life instead of proactively designing and pursuing a life that they want to live. But not Roger! Roger knows exactly what he wants in life and he's determined to create a strategy to get it. Follow Roger throughout his life's journey of achievement and success as he clearly defines and creates his life plan, develops strategies to overcome his fears, and build his confidence and self-esteem.
